 - We are planning a plant program on Tuesday, March 30th from 6-7PM outside between Wells and Knilans, people should bring their own recyclable container (old water bottles, food containers, jars, plastic cups, milk cartons, etc.) to plant seeds in. We will also be having a passive program from March 21st-31st to celebrate Women's history Mont. You can stop by the Wells front desk to pick up a card to give to the important women in your life. Girl Scouts will also be selling cookies in the Wells lobby on Wednesday March 24th from 4:30pm-8pm.

✿ Executive Reports 7:20

- Lisa
 - This week I have worked on making agendas, emails, and attended WSG. I also worked on the poster and email for executive position advertising for next year. Along with that, I assisted Becca with Canva. And final worked on updating my Transition Binder for the months of January and February.
- Ben
 - This week I have spent time walking around campus with Andrea to figure out some questions we want to use for our campus scavenger hunt. Our goal is to have check-ins at every academic building and dorm and fun trivia/campus location questions. More to come with this event. The tentative dates are April 29th and 30th. I also updated the budget this week. We spent $110 dollars on candy for LIT Appreciation and Bronze Pins for the Reception of Excellence. I also attending programming committee where we discussed what programs we want to do for the rest of the semester and planning for the Escape Room night which was that same night. I also was one of the gamemasters for the Escape Room night in the Marvel Infinity Stone room. My group finished all their tasks and grabbed the stones before Thanos could get to them. Finally, I edited the minutes and sent our emails for those people that one You-Rock-You-Rules in the last two weeks.

- Amanda
 - This last week I finished the Escape rooms. Then working with the programming committee so that everyone was able to get ready for the Escape rooms and delegating who would be running what room. The program ran smoothly, then I began working on the transition report of how it went and getting feedback on what we could do for next time. Going to the 3:1 and figuring out what needs to be completed for the upcoming programs. I started working on the Programs that Didn't Make the Cut Week as well as working on the stress Relief program in April "Happy Hour".
- Becca
 - I emailed the front desk to see if we can have people pick up the supplies for the savings jar craft night then I also emailed dining to see if I can pick up cups for the paint to go in, I edited the agenda for the programming committee meeting I met with Amanda, Matt, and Abby on Friday. I filled out a report so Matt or Maria can get the rest of the Mason jars and the paint brushes.
- Abby
 - Hi everyone! I worked on updating my transition report with more information about OTMs because there are more updates with those this semester. I had my one on one with Cole, and my 3:1 with Matt and the programmers. I attended Programming Committee and helped with the Virtual Escape Room Night. I have been working with Becca on creating the poster and other marketing materials for the Savings Jar Craft night next Thursday. Last Thursday, I met with the OTM Committee, and we chose our campus winners. I will be announcing those later in the meeting during the OTM Committee report. I have also been working on preparations for how we plan on recognizing those winners. Finally, I worked with Andrea for Housing Recognition Week, which is next week! Make sure you are checking out the posters in your halls and our social media (@uwrha) for more information on how you can be involved with recognizing others.
- Andrea
 - This past week I focused on working on the scavenger hunt for April. I gained access to the university account for Goosechase, so I started compiling questions about campus. I have also been doing research about campus outside of what I could find from walking around. Along with that, I finalized details about recognition week with Abby and will begin working on banners later this week. I also had my one-on-one meeting with Maria and my external committee.

 - Reception of Excellence - Monday May 3rd, 2021 at 7:15pm
 - Presentation is attached with the minutes email
- Cole
 - March Week 3- Mental Health
 - It is mid-semester and around this time we might need a reminder to take care of our mental health. There are a variety of resources on campus here to support you. We hope you take advantage of some of these options:
 - UHCS offers counseling services for students by licensed professionals and has a 24/7 crisis line. Winther Counseling Services is open to both students and community members Mondays through Thursday and services are offered by supervised practicum students. Silver Cloud is a confidential, self-guided service online that assists students in their mental health in mild anxiety, depression, stress, and sleep. If you believe that you or someone else is in danger, please call 9-1-1.

✿ Guest Speaker – Alex Koon 7:29

- Impact Drag Show – Presentation is attached with minutes email
- Questions:
- What is a drag?
 - Drag is an art form that takes many forms. It began as people identifying as male dressing as females and performing. Now there are drag kings, queens, and royalty. No matter a person's identification, they can participate in drag. Drag shows usually contain music, lip syncing, singing, and so much fun.
- How do you know what pronouns to use for drag royalty?
 - Ask them! If you cannot speak to them directly, check their social media. They may even mention their pronouns while speaking at a performance.

✿ OTM Committee 7:50

✱ UC Committee 7:55

- Have seen more involvement around the UC,
- Want people to know there are more projects coming up late spring/early summer.
- Elevators are going to be fixed over the summer,
- Hawk card Office:
 - Busy on trying to implement the voter ID card into the Hawk Card.
 - Also, wanting to add pronouns on the Hawk Card.
- Late last fall, CLD will be split up due to financial reasons, the career department will be merging with the UC, the Leadership Development part will stay the same
- Now that COVID testing is happening, rooms and other facilities are being shifted around.
 - UC 259 is offline due to video tapping of virtual events.
 - Programs such as RHA want to take advantage of the space again, suggesting UC Room 82 to be designated for virtual programming, would have minimal electrical costs to move equipment.
- Want overall opinion on how the UC has enhanced the experience of student and staff this year. Utilize and encourage people to come back to the UC next fall.
 - What kind of social media posts or information can they get out to show everything that is going on in the UC?

✱ Housing Recognition Week 8:02

- Abby - March 22nd to March 27th
- This year has been a lot of work for everyone so RHA wanted to do something to recognize everyone who has been working so hard this year. Andrea and I have been planning Housing Recognition Week. It is going to be next week starting on Monday and going until Saturday. We are going to be recognizing hall directors, facilities and custodial staff, LIT members, Technology, UWWTV, CDs, ACDs, RAs, our RLA, and desk workers. Each day we are going to have surprise with something special for a different group of people. We are going to be posting more information on RHA's social media on Sunday. There is also going to be banners in the halls by your front desk and posters in hallways with more information.
- Andrea - Appreciate all of those who work in housing and cannot wait to celebrate you next week!
